To meet the instructional needs of the increasingly diverse students in today's middle and high schools, teachers must be more than content area specialists—they must also know how to teach reading. In this practical resource, two teachers share the research-based, classroom-tested techniques they've developed that allow you to teach reading strategies as you teach content. Easy-to-use strategies help you pinpoint students' strengths so you can differentiate your instruction with targeted lessons. This powerful, yet practical approach will help every student succeed. For use with Grades 6–12.
